family tradition begun in 1905 lives on. An artistic and creative man, F. L. Fenton sought to develop new and unusual colors and treatments to keep Fenton in the forefront of the handmade glass industry. His pride and enthusiasm for handcrafted glassware have been carried down through the second, third and fourth generations of the Fenton family who continue the traditions. Fenton Art Glass 100th Anniversary Timeline

For more than 99 years, the vision of Fenton family members, together with their passion for glassmaking, has sustained Fenton Art Glass. Each person contributes special talents to the team effort of glassmaking. We make quality glass, by hand and in keeping with the great heritage and traditions of craftsmanship in the American glass industry.

With $284.86, Frank L. Fenton and his brother John start the Fenton Art Glass Company, renting space in the Haskins Glass Co. building in Martins Ferry, Ohio. They buy glass blanks on which they paint decorations. Soon, they have trouble acquiring glass, so they decide to produce their own.

Fenton Art Glass Exclusives

In honor of our 100th anniversary, we have chosen special glass to offer as exclusives during 2005. Available only at your local Fenton Dealer! Be sure to check www.fentonartglass.com for upcoming events throughout the year and information on Family Signings, Rep Events, and a special Fenton Dealer Anniversary weekend April 29-30 and May 1, 2005. Look for a dealer near you to be a part of the celebration.

Introducing the 2005 Platinum Collection

"Moonlit Poppies" on Black glass. Designer CC Hardman created an incredibly luscious floral motif to enhance the drama of this magnificent 13" Black Satin Vase, one of Fenton's largest pieces of late. Drawn to the rich depth and shading of the design, Scott Fenton requested that it bear his signature as his selection for the 2005 Platinum Collection.

Showcasing the best of Fenton Art Glass—past, present and future. Each piece has been carefully selected to highlight a distinctive Fenton glass color, specific decorating style, or an aspect of glass mastery that has made Fenton the premier U.S. glass manufacturer from 1905 to today.

Fenton Rep Event 2005 Exclusive

Experience Fenton! Tour Fenton on video, meet your Fenton Sales Representative and purchase this exclusive vase. Inscribed with Nancy Fenton's signature.

First developed in 1959, Fenton's Plum Opalescent is a unique color, made with pure gold and pressed in cast iron moulds. The deep, rich color has a gem-like quality, and no two pieces are exactly alike.

This vase, made from a mould acquired recently from Indiana Glass, features an interesting geometric pattern and a six-point crimp. Fenton artisans create the opalescent effect by allowing the glass to chill briefly and then reheating it.

Each year since 1996, Glass Messenger subscribers have been offered the opportunity to purchase special pieces of Fenton glass. The 2005 Subscriber Exclusives are both in Burmese glass: our "Fruits and Flowers" vase and "Peaches" the piglet!

Burmese has been a Fenton hallmark since 1970, when Fenton chemist Charles Goe recreated this exotic art glass from the 1880s. Burmese contains pure gold, and special techniques are required Burmese Piglet, 4" to coax the delicate pink blush from the depths of the glass. Each piece will exhibit unique shading, and Fenton Burmese has a long history as a collector favorite.

Each Glass Messenger Subscriber Exclusive is individually numbered and handpainted and signed by the Fenton artist who decorated it. The Piglet figurine is inscribed with the signature of Shelley Fenton and the "Fruits and Flowers" Vase is inscribed with the signature of George Fenton.

Fenton Showcase Dealer Spring Exclusive 2005

Exclusive to Fenton Showcase Dealers, this Chocolate glass Butterfly Bon Bon is part of the Fenton Centennial Celebration of classic colors. The Butterfly Bon Bon is made with moulds purchased from the Holophane Company of Newark, Ohio, in the mid-1960s. It is inscribed with the signature of Randy Fenton.

Numbered and limited to sales through May 15, 2005.
