DUSTY ROSE

The Embossed Rose pattern was introduced into the Fenton line in the 1960's. It was inspired by a large antique rose comport made by the U.S. Glass Company of Pittsburgh, PA. Dusty Rose pieces in the Embossed Rose pattern continue as top-sellers in the Fenton line.

Using a paint formula infused with gold, Martha Reynolds has designed flowers that sprawl happily across the lattice surface. Fired for permanence, they cool to a lovely fuchsia color.

A white trellis is captured in French Opalescent glass. Molten Dusty Rose glass is then quickly spun onto the top edge before each piece is fluted and formed by hand.

PLUM

True Plum is a challenge to the glass chemist, but rich and rewarding when captured in glass. Plum demands attention every step of the way: from measuring the colorants to selecting shapes that will showcase its brilliance. Like all red-toned glasses, Plum is sensitive to changes in heat, causing slight variations in color from one piece to another.

PANSIES

An expert craftsman deftly spins a molten ring of Plum on the edge of pristine Milk Glass. Art in motion, he smooths it to an even circle before quickly forming the piece into its final shape.

Frances Burton has captured the beautiful shadings and slender stems that are the hallmark of America's favorite perennial.

WELCOME LIGHT

The Pineapple was a symbol of welcome in the Americas long before Columbus arrived in 1492. West Indians placed pineapple tops near the entrance of their huts to indicate that strangers were welcome.

The Spanish took the pineapple symbol of hospitality back to Spain where it became popular and quickly spread to England. English colonists who settled in America in the 1700's built their homes with carved pineapples over the doorways and on the gateposts, thereby bringing this symbol of welcome back home where the tradition continues today.

LANGUAGE OF LOVE

Sentimental Victorians shared their deepest feelings in a special language of flowers. Each known flower had its own meaning in this delicate art of communication. A young man would send a bouquet of jonquils if he desired "a return of affection." The lady might respond with snowdrops indicating "hope", or red tulips "declaring love." If she wasn't pleased with the suitor, yellow tulips would tell him it was "hopeless love."

"The Language of Love" revives this beautiful tradition in a loving Anniversary message. Each of the flowers entwined to form a heart tells a story:

The Rose represents Love. The Ivy signifies Marriage, Fidelity and Friendship. The Forget-Me-Nots denote True Love.

This heart of love was created to represent the enduring strength in your marriage and is given to celebrate the day you were wed.

Happy Anniversary

the Legend of the Secret Slipper

Knights of yore returned from the crusades bearing wonderful gifts for their loved ones. Highly valued among these were the beautifully-decorated "Secret Slippers" with their long and pointed upturned toes. Because the slippers had magical powers to ward off evil and bring great happiness, they were given as tokens of the highest esteem to very special people. Fenton revives this legend through its handmade glass slipper. As the knights of long ago followed a lofty code of conduct, Fenton glassmakers follow a tradition of quality craftsmanship in every secret slipper created.

Each slipper comes with a colorful tag telling the Legend of the Secret Slipper

The Medieval Legend of the Gift of Happiness

Knights of Yore returned from the Crusades bearing beautifully decorated shoes with magical powers. Fenton revives this lovely tradition with the Secret Slipper. Each is handpainted and comes gift boxed with the written legend included.
