Cobalt Blue

Cobalt blue glass has remarkable depth and a gem-like quality to it. Fenton chemists have formulas for more than 60 different varieties of blue glass, and this vivid cobalt is among the favorites. The key ingredient is cobalt oxide, and even a small amount of this colorant will impart color to many pounds of glass in our melting furnace.

Limited Edition Angels and Santa

Blushing Burmese glass brings our winter Angel and Santa to life with a warm glow that results from pure gold in the formula. Cloaked in a handpainted velvet and lace design by Stacy Williams, the Winter Angel wears a halo of 22k gold. Santa cuddles a kitten and wears a Christmas robe of handpainted poinsettias created by Kim Bailey. Angel blessings mark the Christmas season. Robin Spindler's Renaissance Angel is resplendent in colors of tea rose and soft green with accents of 22k gold.

Christmas Trees

Christmas trees are the heart of the American holiday tradition. Our Emerald Green, Cobalt and Ruby Trees are accented with a miniature gold plated steam engine, recalling the tradition of a model train circling the Christmas tree.

The desirable Slag Trees revive an early art glass treatment, with swirls of color mixed into pure white Milk Glass. Collect and enjoy this new look for your holiday celebrations.

Autumn Gold

The fiery fury of Fenton's furnaces creates a "liquid gold" that when cooled, is captured forever in the honeyed shades of Autumn Gold glass. An elephant never forgets, so sculptor Suz Whitaker created a whimsical "memory box" to store life's precious memories and treasures. The memorable Elephant Box offers up his trunk to serve as a ringholder.
